PROJECT DETAILS

Project: Database Development
Description: A 12-year-old with Claude in 2026 could probably build software that took a principal engineer weeks to ship in 2022. Which is incredible news for the 12-year-old. Slightly less comforting for the principal engineer. ■ But writing code was never the entire job. Someone still has to identify the right problem, understand what customers need, make difficult trade-offs, earn trust, and turn a working product into a successful business.
